BRIEF PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Preferred Family Healthcare, Inc.’s (PFH) Preserving Families Through Partnerships project in Central Missouri (PFTP-CM) focuses on increasing family and child safety, recovery, permanency and well-being, and promoting the safety and stability of families. PFTP-CM promotes integrated care through innovative, relevant, and effective programs.

PFTP-CM serves families with children at risk of or in out-of-home care due to substance use by their parent or caretaker and defined by having an active Children’s Division child abuse or neglect referral or open case. PFTP-CM coordinates and integrates comprehensive services that include: (1) enhancing access to treatment settings by offering childcare, transportation, recovery management, and intensive case management; (2) incorporating interventions designed to bolster parent-child interaction; (3) matching services that address multiple client needs through one service delivery mechanism; and (4) bolstering client-provider relations to ensure treatment retention and completion.

PFTP-CM is a trauma- and evidence-informed, community-centered project intended to preserve families, and includes four design innovations that address lessons from previous Regional Partnership Grants (RPGs). PFTP-CM incorporates the Signs of Safety Protective Practice Framework used by the Children’s Division as its core assessment, case planning, and service delivery approach.

TARGET POPULATION AND PROJECTED NUMBERS SERVED

The target population is families with children at risk of or in out-of-home care due to substance use by their parents or caretaker, defined as having an active Children’s Division child abuse or neglect referral or open case with parental substance use disorder (SUD) issues.

PFTP-CM will serve 180 families over the 3-year grant period, including 419 children.

EVALUATION DESIGN

Outcome Study Design: Randomized Control Trial (RCT)

The grantee’s local evaluation has two components: an impact study and a process collaboration study. The grantee is also participating in the RPG cross-site evaluation studies of family and child outcomes, program implementation, and collaboration among RPG grantees and partners.

Impact Study Design

The grantee will use a RCT design to examine the impact of its RPG services among participating families. The RCT includes two program groups and one comparison group. All three groups will receive a set of core services, which include enhanced case management, peer mentor support, access to substance use disorder treatment, access to employment and job training/skill building services, access to primary and basic behavioral health care, the Nurturing Parenting Program for Parents in Substance Abuse Treatment and Recovery, and specialized parenting and behavior management support. In addition to the core services, members of both program groups receive the support of a family advocate, whose role is to provide outreach and advocacy for families, develop and coordinate individualized service delivery plans for each family member, and provide program services. One of the two program groups will receive trauma education services from the Helping Men Recover/Helping Women Recover program, and the other program group will receive relapse prevention services using Living in Balance. Services will last an average of 8 months for all three groups. The impact study will include 180 families, with 60 in each of the two program groups and 60 in the comparison group. The grantee will examine impacts in the following domains: permanency, safety, child well-being, family functioning, and recovery.

Data sources include administrative data and information gathered by program and evaluation staff using standardized instruments for program and comparison groups. At baseline, program staff will administer three instruments (the ASI-Addiction Severity Index, the PDS-Post Traumatic Stress Diagnostic Scale, the Adverse Childhood Experience Survey, and the North Carolina Family Assessment Scale at 30 days and 6 months post-intake and at case closure). Evaluation staff will administer cross-site measures at baseline and the following site-specific tools: the Connor Davidson Resilience Scale, Parenting Stress Index, and Trauma Symptoms Checklist for Children or Young Children. Evaluators will collect the Working Alliance Inventory at 45 days post-intake and every 90 days until case closure. There are four targeted data collection points for each family: (1) baseline (beginning of services), (2) 6 months following baseline, (3) case closure (at the end of services), and (4) 6 months following case closure. Evaluation staff will collect the same measures at follow-up as at baseline plus the ASI and PDS.

Process and Collaboration Study Design

In the process and collaboration study, the grantee will examine progress toward project goals, implementation of the program, organizational readiness for implementation, and the collaboration process among partners. The study will examine whether fidelity of program implementation is established and maintained during the grant period, how various stakeholders (families, service providers, and service team staff) perceive the effectiveness of the program components, and the prevalence of shared ideas and values between the grantee and its partners. Data sources include program documents, case records, administrative data, interviews and focus groups with program staff and participants, and surveys of organization and partner staff.

SUSTAINABILITY STRATEGIES AND ACTIVITIES

PFTP-CM has a multifaceted approach to sustainability, which is incorporated into every level of planning, implementation, and evaluation. Memoranda of Understanding signed during the development of this proposal include a commitment from partners to prioritize sustainability of the program. PFTP-CM maintains community partner engagement in the planning and operation of their program through broad outreach and collaboration. The Stakeholder Team meeting addresses sustainability as a key point of discussion in their regular meetings. Quarterly reports with data, project activities, and outcomes are shared widely. New and relevant knowledge generated from the PFTP-CM project is analyzed and disseminated in order to affect sustainable, systemic change in the prevention of child maltreatment.

PFH’s RPG programs have drawn substantial support from the Missouri Departments of Mental Health and Social Services, advocacy efforts continue/persist to identify funding sources, including adding such family support projects as a set-aside in the state budget. Medicaid remains the largest payer in Missouri for many of the services provided through this program; this is a key factor in obtaining approval of funding. Medicaid remains a vital source of safety net funding in Missouri, including for payment of much needed support services for families served by PFH. Systemic change effected through RPG and PFH’s family support programs is essential to replication and sustainability of practices and continuum of care coordination among providers and presents opportunities for leveraging other sources of private, corporate, federal, state, and local funding.
